

Contents

Abstract.....	i
Acknowledgements.....	ii
Author’s declaration.....	iii
Contents.....	iv
List of illustrations.....	vi

Introduction

0.0 Introduction.....	01
0.1 Aims & Objectives & the Contribution to Knowledge.....	01
0.2 Practice - Led PhD Literature	05
0.3 Methodology.....	08
0.4 The Organisation of the Text – an Overview.....	11
0.5 The Submission Contents of the PhD.....	13

Part one: The Rationale

1.0 Introduction.....	15
1.1 Rethinking Practice.....	15
1.2 Why Spoons.....	20
1.3 A Philosophy of Practice.....	24

Part two: From Hand to Mouth – Spoons & Spoonness

2.0 Introduction.....	29
2.1 Object & Language: Beyond Words.....	30
2.2 From the Hollow to the Handle.....	34
2.3 The Spoon & Spoonness	41

Part three: Turning Meaning into Public Discourse
3.0 Introduction.....	46
3.1 Work in Progress, Galerie SO, Solothurn, Switzerland, 2004	47
3.2 By Chance or By Design - P4P, spooinglass & hemDing.....	52
3.3 1 Part Chef + 4 Parts Design.....	61
3.4 The Spoon-in-use and ‘Emilie Eating Soup’ (V&A 2006)....	66
3.5 A Reflective Evaluation of Practice - Led Investigations.....	71
Conclusion.....	75
4.0 Contribution to Knowledge.....	97
4.1 Post Doctoral Work.....	100
4.2 Recommendations for Further Research.....	102
4.3 Final Thoughts.....	102
Account of Sources
5.0 Books.....	105
5.1 PhD Literature.....	107
5.2 Exhibition catalogues.....	107
5.3 Journals & Magazines & Papers.....	108
5.4 Films.....	109
5.5 Webography.....	109
Appendices
6.0 PhD Time Line.....	113
6.1 P4P Time Line.....	116
6.2 Pre - PhD Chronology.....	118
6.3 Film: Emilie Eating Soup , 2005/8 (DVD)
6.4 Publication: Form (...) Handlung , Galerie SO, Switzerland, 2004	